Creative Courses

Esker offers time for you! It's a rural place away from a complex world.

It offers excellent food, clean comfortable accommodation, single or double rooms as required. The wooded walks are wonderful. You can find your soul in the peace and tranquillity of a place that is sacred for hundreds of years.

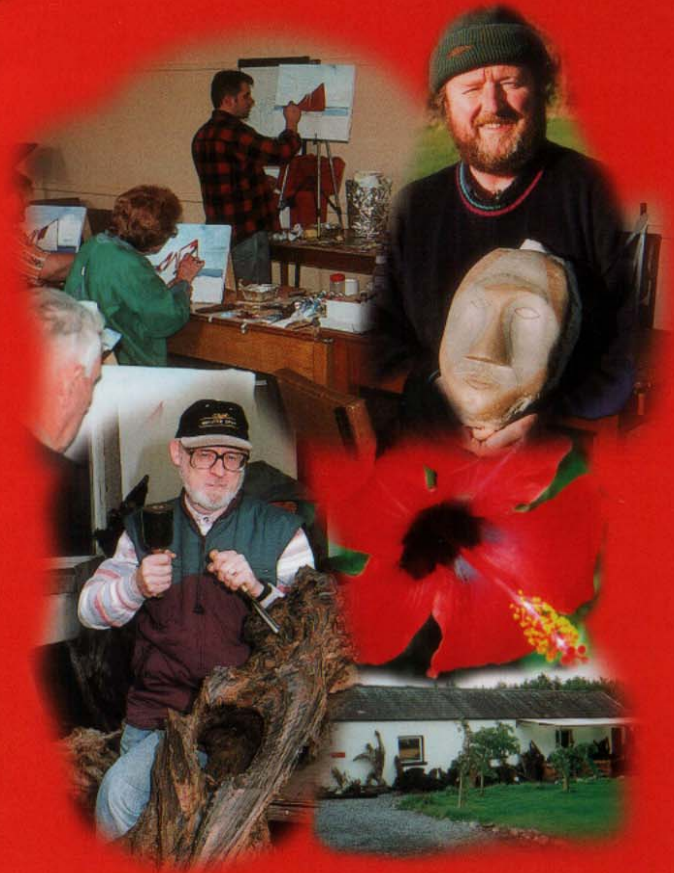

Everyone is welcome - men and women with a strong faith or none. Daily Mass is available for those who so desire.

A huge number and variety of courses / workshops / retreats is on offer throughout the year.

Our special brochure is available on request.

Esker is three miles from Athenry town, 25 minutes from the ancient city of Galway. If you can't find us then ask anyone in Athenry. We are well known.

Note: Courses for particular groups can be organised throughout the year in any of the art programmes - depending on the availability of the tutors. Contact us if your organisation or group are thinking of such a venture.

It's difficult to find a floral painting course.

Here is one that both beginners and the experienced artist will enjoy. Even if you have never painted before, each day you will produce a wonderful painting of flowers under the skilful guidance of international artist Jane Paice.

Jane has taught many such courses in Esker. She is a patient, caring teacher who takes time with each person and brings out those painting talents you never knew you had.

We are lucky to have Jane. After experiencing one of her courses you will know why we say that. Early booking is essential as course numbers are strictly limited. Jane also teaches seascape painting.
